Product Description

Waterproof Hotel Decoration Natural Anti-Corrosion Solid Wood Grille Grooved Wall Panel

Solid Wood Grille Grooved Wall Panel is an interior wall covering made of solid wood, specially designed for interior decoration. The surfaces of these panels have grooves or channels that give them a unique decorative look. The panels are made of real natural wood, giving it an authentic and luxurious look. Solid wood is known for its durability and longevity, making these panels suitable for indoor environments. Panels are treated or coated for water repellency or water repellency. This feature ensures that the wood is protected from moisture, making the panels more durable and less likely to be warped or damaged by water. The wood used in the panels is treated or naturally resistant to decay. This makes them ideal for use in environments with a high risk of corrosion or in coastal areas where salt exposure may be an issue. Grooves or channel designs in the face of the panels add a decorative element to the walls. These grooves can vary in size and pattern, providing flexibility for creating different aesthetic styles.
